

Library Guides

What do I do if the Library doesn't have the journal article or book I want?

If you would like a book or journal article, and we do not stock it in the Library, you have the option of asking us to get it from another library. This is called inter-library loan. There is information, including a request form, on the Document Supply website.

All staff and registered students of Swansea University can use the inter-library loan service. The inter-library loan service is financially subsidised by Information Services & Systems (ISS) and we request you use it only for essential materials. Please check our iFind catalogue before submitting a request to ensure the item is not held in stock either electronically or in print.

Unique solution ID: #1200

Author: Lori Havard / amend Paul Johns

Last update: 2016-11-22 16:07