

Welfare@CampusLife

I am having difficulties adjusting to life at University. Where can I go for advice?

Everyone has a different student experience when they start University. At Swansea University, you can be assured that we are just as concerned about your welfare as we are about your academic studies and performance.

Welfare@CampusLife are here to provide you with practical advice and support on many different welfare issues you may face during your time at Swansea University. We will work together with you and your college to ensure you have the best possible Student experience.

If you wish to seek support from the University, you will need to get in contact with your College welfare contact in first instance.

If you would like to get in touch with the central welfare team directly, you can email us or call on: 01792 513889.
